Coopers Park Corporation

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
June 30, 2008

1 Nature of operations

On August 9, 2006, Coopers Park Real Estate Corporation changed its name to Coopers Park Corporation (the Company). The principal business of the Company is the acquisition, development and marketing of three residential condominium properties in Vancouver, British Columbia on two building sites the Company has agreed to acquire from Concord Pacific Group Inc. (Concord).

“Coopers Pointe”, an 86-unit high rise condominium tower on Site 6A, was completed in November 2007. “Flagship”, a 112-unit high rise condominium tower, and “Mariner”, a 133-unit high rise condominium tower, are located on Site 6BD and are scheduled to be partially completed in December 2008 with the remaining units to be completed in 2009.

2 Significant accounting policies

Generally accepted accounting principles

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Adoption of new accounting standards

On January 1, 2008, the Company adopted Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA) Handbook Section 1535, “Capital Disclosures”; Section 3862, “Financial Instruments – Disclosures”; and Section 3031, “Inventories; and the amendments to CICA Handbook sections and accounting guidelines resulting from the issuance of these sections.

(a) Capital Disclosures

This new standard requires the disclosure of the Company’s objectives, policies and processes for managing capital, quantitative data about what the entity regards as capital, and whether the Company has complied with any capital requirements and, if it has not complied, the consequences of such non-compliance. This information is disclosed in note 12.

(b) Financial Instruments - Disclosure

This new standard replaces Section 3861, “Financial Instruments - Disclosure and Presentation”. It revises and enhances the disclosure requirements related to the significance of financial instruments on the Company’s financial position and performance and the nature and extent of risk arising from financial instruments to which the Company is exposed and how the Company manages those risks. The additional disclosure requirements are presented in note 11.

Coopers Park Corporation

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

June 30, 2008

(c) Inventories

This new standard prescribes the measurement of disclosure of inventories and provides guidance on the determination of cost and subsequent recognition as an expense. The measurement changes include the requirement to measure inventories at the lower of cost and net realizable value, the allocation of overhead based on normal capacity, the requirement for an entity to use a consistent cost formula for inventory of a similar nature and use, and the reversal of previous write-downs to net realizable value when there is a subsequent increase in the value of inventories. As at December 31, 2007 $3,747,760 of certain costs was included under properties. This new standard requires these costs to be excluded from the measurement of properties and to recognize such costs as expenses in the period in which they are incurred. On adoption of the new standard, the Company reduced the opening retained earnings by $2,585,760 represented by the difference in the measurement of properties for $3,747,760 less income tax of $1,162,000. Prior periods have not been restated. The additional disclosure requirements are presented in note 3.

Future accounting changes

The CICA plans to transition Canadian generally accepted accounting principles for public companies to International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). The effective changeover date is for interim and annual financial statements relating to fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2011. The impact of the transition to IFRS on the Company's consolidated financial statements is not yet determinable.

Principles of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Coopers Park Real Estate Development Corporation, Coopers Park Real Estate Trust, Coopers Park Investment Holdings Ltd., Mariner Towers Limited, and Mariner Towers Limited Partnership.

All intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated.

Properties

Properties under development are recorded at the lower of cost and their estimated net realizable value.

Cost includes all expenditures incurred in connection with the acquisition, development, and construction of these properties. These expenditures consist of all direct costs, interest on debt incurred to finance the acquisition, development and construction, and certain general and administrative expenses that are directly attributable to the properties. Incidental revenue specifically relating to such properties earned during the holding, development and construction phases is treated as a reduction in cost.

The Company provides for an impairment provision where the carrying value of the particular property exceeds its estimated net realizable value.

Management's estimates of the net realizable value of its properties are based on the best available information at the time of assessment. Costs are inherently subject to fluctuation and unforeseen costs or expenses could be incurred in the holding, development and construction processes. The costs associated with the Company's projects could be significantly increased by events outside the Company's control, including increases in interest rates and increases in development and construction costs. The Company's anticipated revenues from its properties are based on the sale of an estimated number of units of each project at estimated prices that are subject to market forces. There can be no assurance that the various assumptions will be realized or that the properties will not be adversely affected by unforeseen economic factors, resulting in a diminution in the anticipated value of the Company's projects.

Coopers Park Corporation

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

June 30, 2008

Revenue recognition

Revenue from the sale of condominium units is recorded when title transfers to the purchasers, they are entitled to occupancy, there is persuasive evidence of an arrangement for the sale of the property, the proceeds are fixed and determinable and collection of the sale proceeds is reasonably assured.

Cost of properties sold

Cost of properties sold is determined using the net yield method whereby the cost of properties sold for the period is a pro-rated amount of the total estimated costs for the project based on sales for the period versus projected sales for the entire project.

Warranty costs

Estimated future warranty costs are accrued and charged to cost of sales in the period in which revenues are recognized from the sale of properties. The recognized amount of future warranty costs is based on the Company's best information and judgment and is based in part upon management's historical experience. The inherent uncertainty associated with real estate development makes it reasonably possible that future conditions may materially affect the amount of any warranty obligations. An increase in the provision for warranty costs, with a corresponding charge to earnings, is recorded in the period in which management estimates that additional warranty obligations are likely.

Cash and cash equivalents

For purposes of determining cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of deposits with banks and highly liquid short-term interest bearing securities with maturities at the date of purchase of three months or less and exclude cash subject to restrictions that prevent its use for current purposes.

Prepaid expenses

Sales commissions directly associated with selling condominium units are recorded as prepaid expenses until the period in which revenue from the sale of the condominium units is recognized, at which time the sales commissions are charged to selling costs.

Income taxes

The Company applies the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under this method, current income taxes are recognized for the estimated income taxes payable for the current period. Future income tax

Coopers Park Corporation

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

assets and liabilities are recognized in the current period for temporary differences between the tax and accounting bases of assets and liabilities as well as for the benefit of losses available to be carried forward to future years for tax purposes. Future income tax assets and liabilities are measured using substantively enacted tax rates and laws expected to apply in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect of a change in tax rates on future income tax assets and liabilities is recognized in operations in the period that includes the substantive enactment date. A valuation allowance is recognized to the extent it is more likely than not that future income tax assets will not be realized.

Earnings per share

Earnings (loss) per common share is computed by dividing the net earnings (loss) by the weighted average number of voting and non-voting common shares outstanding during the year using the treasury stock method.

Use of estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported and disclosed in the consolidated financial statements. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Estimating the net realizable value of the Company's properties under development and future income tax assets and the fair value of the Company's investments requires management to make estimates and assumptions due in part to the uncertainties associated with the development of residential real estate. Accordingly, by their nature, such estimates are subjective and do not result in precise determinations. It is possible that changes may occur that could materially affect the estimated realizable amounts.

During the six months ended June 30, 2008, changes in properties held for sales and properties under development recognized as cost of properties sold amounted to $3,713,306 (June 30, 2006 - $nil). During the six months ended June 30, 2008, the write-down of properties to net realizable value amounted to $nil (June 30, 2007 - $nil). During the six months ended June 30, 2008 the reversal of write-downs amounted to $nil (June 30, 2007 - $nil).

Land deposit

The Company has entered into a Purchase Agreement to acquire two development sites located within Concord Pacific Place in Vancouver, B.C. (Site 6A and Site 6BD) from Concord, a company controlled by members of the family of a director. The aggregate purchase price of $44,700,000 is subject to being increased by the percentage increase in a stipulated market-based housing price index from December 31, 2004 to the completion of the purchase of each Site. The Company has paid an aggregate cash deposit of $12,500,000 to Concord that will be applied to the purchase price of the Sites.

The Purchase Agreement provides that the completion date of the purchase of each Site is the 60th day following the earlier of:

- a) receiving a Confirmation of Compliance issued by the Province of British Columbia with respect to Concord completing certain environmental remediation work and completing certain infrastructure work to the satisfaction of the City of Vancouver as outlined in the Purchase Agreement, and
- b) receiving an occupancy permit from the City of Vancouver for the condominium units in the building on each Site.

The completion of the purchase of each Site is contingent upon the earlier of the above two conditions for each Site being satisfied on or before December 31, 2008 (the Outside Date). At any time, the Company may waive, in whole or in part, these conditions. In the event these conditions are not satisfied by Concord or waived by the Company for each Site prior to the Outside Date, the deposit amount for the applicable Site is to be returned to the Company. In the event the Company is in default of the Purchase Agreement, the applicable deposit will be forfeited to Concord.

In accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for related party transactions, the purchase of each Site will be recorded at the historical book value of the Site to Concord.

On November 26, 2007, the Company received an occupancy permit from the City of Vancouver for Site 6A and completed the purchase of the Site on January 25, 2008. The final purchase price was $15,997,731. The historical book value of the Site to Concord of $3,812,959 was capitalized to properties under development and the excess of the purchase price over the historic book value of $12,184,772 (less income taxes of $4,050,000) was charged to retained earnings. At December 31, 2007, included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities and included in cash held in trust was $nil (December 31, 2007 - $13,341,131) owing to Concord for Site 6A. The amount was paid in January 2008.

Had the completion of the purchase of Site 6BD occurred on June 30, 2008, the stipulated market-based housing price index was 1.7449 (December 31, 2007 - 1.6560), resulting in an estimated purchase price of $61,420,480 (December 31, 2007 - $58,291,000).

4 Investments

During the year ended December 31, 2006, the Company acquired approximately 1.6% of the voting preferred shares of a private technology company from Concord for cash of $538,555, the carrying value of the shares to Concord. Based primarily on a comparison to subsequent issuances of similar securities, the estimated fair value of the Company's investment is $538,555.

On June 12, 2007, the Company acquired by way of a share subscription approximately 2.35% of the preferred shares for cash of $200,000 of another private technology company whose Chief Executive Officer is a director of the Company. Based primarily on a comparison to subsequent issuances of similar securities, the estimated fair value of the Company's investment is $200,000.

8 Related party transactions and commitments

The Company has no employees and accordingly has entered into various agreements with related parties.

Construction management agreement

The Company has entered into a construction management agreement with Centreville Construction Ltd. (Centreville), a wholly owned subsidiary of Concord. In exchange for managing the development and construction of the properties under development, Centreville receives a fee equal to 3% of Construction Costs (the Costs), as defined in the agreement. The fee is payable monthly based on the Costs incurred in the immediately preceding month. During the six months ended June 30, 2008, construction management fees of $615,000 (June 30, 2007 - $562,000) were charged by Centreville and have been capitalized to properties under development. Included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities is $492,609 (December 31, 2007 - $448,021) owing to Centreville.

Marketing and sales agreement

The Company has entered into a marketing and sales agreement with Prompton Real Estate Services Inc. (Prompton), a company controlled by an individual related to a director. In exchange for managing all of the sales and marketing activities related to the Company's properties under development, Prompton receives a fee equal to 3% of the gross revenue from sales of units in the developments. The fee is payable monthly based on sales agreements entered into in the month by the Company with third parties. During the six months ended June 30, 2008, marketing and sales commissions of $231,523 (June 30, 2007 - $574,568) were charged by Prompton, of which marketing fees of $124,828 (June 30, 2007 - $453,786) have been expensed and sales commissions of $106,695 (June 30, 2007 - $120,782) have been included in prepaid expenses. Included in account payable and accrued liabilities at June 30, 2008 is $23,988 (December 31, 2007 - $nil) owing to Prompton. Included in amounts receivable at June 30, 2008 is $nil (December 31, 2007 - $33,912) owing from Prompton.

Administration agreement

The Company has entered into an administration agreement with Concord. In exchange for providing management and administrative services, Concord will be reimbursed for all expenses, as defined in the agreement, incurred with respect to providing such services and receive a monthly fee of 3% of the amount of the expenses. The Company and Concord have agreed that the monthly expenses and fee (excluding miscellaneous out-of-pocket expenses) aggregate $19,828 and accordingly have agreed to amend the administration agreement to provide for the fixed monthly charge of $19,828 through January 2009. The administration agreement expires in January 2015.

During the six months ended June 30, 2008, expenses and administration fees of $118,965 (June 30, 2007 - $118,965) were charged by Concord and have been included in general and administrative expenses.

Other transactions

During the six months ended June 30, 2008, development costs of $965,831 (June 30, 2007 - $4,674,497) were charged by a company controlled by members of the family of a director and have been capitalized to properties under development. Included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities at June 30, 2008 is $81,731 (December 31, 2007 - $190,596) owing to this company.

Included in amounts receivable at June 30, 2008 is $1,510 (December 31, 2007 - $187,855) owing from Concord for certain infrastructure and development costs advanced. The balance is unsecured, non-interest bearing and without stated repayment terms.

Other related party balances and transactions are disclosed elsewhere in these consolidated financial statements.

9 Income taxes

The recovery of income taxes differs from the amount obtained by applying the statutory Canadian federal and provincial income tax rates to earnings (loss) for the year as follows:

	2008	2007
Provision for income taxes based on the combined statutory income tax rate of 31% (2007 - 34.12%)	1,041,000	7,473,000
Adjustment to net future tax assets for changes in tax rates	320,000	770,000
Change in valuation allowance on future income tax assets	(527,000)	(25,020,000)
	834,000	(16,777,000)
Provision for (recovery of) income taxes	834,000	(16,777,000)

During the six months ended June 30, 2008, the Company utilized non-capital losses in the calculation of taxable income. Due to the complexity inherent in the interpretation of the provisions of the Income Tax Act (Canada), it is possible that some or all of the Company's non-capital losses may not be deductible for tax purposes and, accordingly, the amount of future income taxes and recovery of income taxes recorded in the consolidated financial statements could change by a material amount.

The tax effect of temporary differences that give rise to future income tax assets are as follows:

	2008	2007
Future income tax assets (liabilities)
Non-capital losses carry-forward	15,087,000	15,591,000
Investment in joint venture	3,295,000	3,348,000
Properties	2,229,000	1,618,000

11 Financial instruments

Fair values and classification of financial instruments

All financial instruments are classified as one of the following: held-to-maturity investments, loan and receivables, held-for-trading, or available-for-sale. Financial assets and liabilities held-for-trading are measured at fair value with gains and losses recognized in net earnings. Financial assets held-to-maturity, loans and receivables, and financial liabilities other than those held-for-trading are measured at amortized cost. Available-for-sale instruments are measured at fair value with unrealized gains and losses recognized in other comprehensive income.

The Corporation's investments are classified as held-for-trading instruments. The valuation of the investments is described in note 4.

All other financial instruments are recorded at amortized cost.

At June 30, 2008, the fair values of cash held in trust, cash and cash equivalents, amounts receivable, construction loans and accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their respective carrying values.

Interest rate risk

All of the Company's financial instruments are non-interest bearing except for cash and cash equivalents that earn interest at variable market rates and the construction loans that bear interest as disclosed in note 6. At June 30, 2008, the $74,822,515 construction loan was subject to movements in interest rates. Other variables being held constant, a one percentage increase in the interest rate will increase the interest incurred capitalized to properties under development by $312,000 and net earnings by approximately $25,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2008. A one percentage point reduction would decrease interest incurred capitalized to properties under development and net earnings by the same amount.

Credit risk exposures

The financial instruments that potentially expose the Company to a concentration of credit risk are cash and cash equivalents and amounts receivable. The Company limits its exposure to credit loss by placing its cash and cash equivalents with high quality financial institutions.

Liquidity risk

The Company limits its exposure to liquidity risk by maintaining a sufficient amount of cash and cash equivalents and ensure that the Company has sufficient authorized construction loans as financing sources. The Company prepares budget and cash forecasts to ensure that it has sufficient funds to fulfill its obligations.
